

Talla Widelock, MD # 26

Talla Widelock is a first year Maternal Fetal Medicine Fellow at Wake Forest Baptist Hospital. She first joined the Obstetrics and Gynecology department in 2017 as an assistant professor in General Obstetrics and Gynecology. She is passionate about medical education and has been involved in various medical student teaching opportunities. In 2019, Talla graduated in the inaugural class of the Medical Educator Certificate Program at Wake Forest School of Medicine. With the guidance of her mentor and fellowship program director, Dr Brian Brost, she remains involved in medical education research, specifically curriculum design.
