They feel very fortunate to have been given the opportunity to train here and the unique privilege to continue taking care of the wonderful people of this area. They would like to thank all the faculty for their tremendous support and look forward to continued mentorship as we transition to practice. Thank you to the wonderful residents who work so hard – you truly are the backbone, and I cannot wait to work alongside you in the future.

Alexander H. Jinnah, MD, PhD

Dr. Jinnah will move to Houston with his puppy, Winnie, for a fellowship in pediatric orthopaedics at Texas Children's Hospital. He would like to thank his family, friends and mentors for their help and guidance throughout his years in the research lab and residency. He will miss Winston-Salem and the extended family he has created at Wake Forest. He looks forward to a new adventure in Houston and will return to Winston-Salem to visit friends and family.

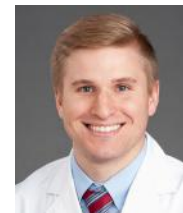

Natalie Marengi, MD

Dr. Marengi and her boyfriend, Sid, will move to Charlotte with their huskies, Max and Dakota, for a trauma fellowship at Atrium Health Carolinas Medical Center. They are excited to extend their time in North Carolina before moving to Tallahassee for a job after fellowship. Natalie is grateful for the opportunity to train at Wake Forest and for all the knowledge, experience and lifelong friends and mentors she gained. She would like to thank the faculty, residents, her family, and most importantly, Sid, for their consistent support and encouragement.

John Hunter Matthews, MD

Dr. Matthews and his dog, Murphy, will move to Atlanta for a fellowship in adult reconstruction at Emory School of Medicine. He looks forward to this next chapter in training but will greatly miss his Wake Forest orthopaedics family. He would like to thank the faculty, residents and staff for the exceptional training and help over the past five years, and his family and friends for their constant encouragement and support.

Rosser William McCallie, MD

Dr. McCallie and his wife, Mary Margaret, along with their children Lydia (5) and Graeme (3) will move to Albuquerque for a fellowship in trauma at the University of New Mexico. They would like to thank everyone at Atrium Wake Forest Baptist, particularly his class, for making it a wonderful 5 years. They treasure the time spent in Winston-Salem and are looking forward to a new chapter.
